ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

“All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made.” John 1:3

After an intensive period of nine months, today is the day: writing this note of thanks is the finishing touch on my thesis. It has been a period of intense learning for me, not only in the academic area, but also on a personal level. Writing this thesis has had a big impact on me. I would like to reflect on the people who have supported and helped me so much throughout this period.

Foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my advisor, Solomon Tsehay (PHD), for the continuous support on my thesis study, for his patience, motivation, enthusiasm, and immense knowledge. His door to office was always open whenever I ran into a trouble spot or had a question about my research or writing. He consistently allowed this paper to be my own work, and steered me in the right direction whenever he thought I needed it.

I would also like to acknowledge Zerayehu Sime Eshete (PHD) as the second reader of this thesis, and I am gratefully indebted to his for his very valuable comments, selfless support and encouragement during the course of the thesis.

My next gratitude goes to the people who helped me during the data collection, Ato Nigussie Girma, Tewodros Meles and my Mom also my friend Omer Mohammed for his continuous support in openhanded me with materials regarding the study.

Finally, I take this opportunity to express my very profound gratefulness to my beloved parents for their love and unfailing support and continuous encouragement throughout the years of study. This accomplishment would not have been possible without them. Thank you.
