ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, I would like to express my deep and sincere gratitude to my academic supervisor, Professor Dr. Masahiko MATSUDA, for his patient guidance, encouragement and advices he has provided throughout this research. I have been deeply lucky to have a supervisor who cared so much about my work, and who responded to my questions and queries so promptly. I am also extremely grateful to Professor Haruyuki SHIMADA, for his friendship, empathy, great sense of humor, invaluable suggestions and comments during the oral presentations.

I am also wish to express my special appreciation and thanks to all professors from Ritsumeikan University for their kindly and enthusiastically teaching to complete all of my course-works.

I am also grateful to the funding received through Monbukagakusho Scholarship Program of the Government of Japan to take my Master degree.

My deep appreciation goes out to the field research team members: Khin Thin Thin Mar, Saw Nyo Nyo Thin, Khaing Thazin Oo, Kyu Kyu Wai and Htet Htet Aung. Their excellent work during data collection has made an invaluable contribution towards my Master degree. I am also grateful to them – for their friendship and the warmth they extended to me during my time in the field survey.

Great encouragements, supports and understanding came from my beloved families and Mr. Paing Htet Oo are very invaluable for my study. They are always believing in me and encouraging me to follow my dreams and helping me in whatever way they could encouragement, support and taking care during this challenging period.
